ty removal is growing daily.The worm has turned and Columbia no longer dictates to the Missouri legislature.If the University of Missouri were to be relocated, anew, Columbia would never be considered an eligible site by a sane man.Hon. W. J. Stone, candidate for governor, who will address the people of Sedalia at the court house, Tuesday night, is one of the ablest men in the state, an eloquent orator and a statesman of national renown. An able discussion of the political issues of the day is in store for those who hear him.Free iron ore, free pig-iron, free soft coal and free tin-plate would be an admirable object-lesson to the conspirators of Pennsylvania who are running up the prices of fuel and running down the wages of labor.
They would thereby be taught that law is not always unjustly on the side of monopoly.Mr. W. H. Paris, old resident of Sedalia and a prominent carpenter and builder, has announced himself as a candidate for the council from the Third ward subject to the democratic primaries. Should he be chosen he would properly represent his ward as well as the city generally. He claims the west end of the ward has not had a representative for years and is entitled to equal consideration with any other portion.Some months ago Mr. C. B. Rolins, of Columbia, delivered an address in Columbia, in which he severely and unjustly criticised the present general assembly of Missouri and which met with ringing applause.
It was "just the thing" then and the Columbia papers published it in full.
Now, Columbia people disown all approval of the address. They never thought of disowning approval, though, until they saw the university slipping from their mercenary grasp.The proposition of Independence for the university is somewhat staggering to other aspirants. Independence offers to take the insurance money due the state from the burning of the university, donate 40 acres of land for a site, build a university freeof cost to the state, and give a bond of one million dollars for the fulfillment of these conditions. But Independence is too far from the center of the state and too close to a large city to secure the university. A smaller offer from Sedalia will receive more consideration.The National Agitator, published at Sedalia, by Milton B. McGee, in the interest of the colored people of Missouri, with special Springfield, Kansas City and St. Louis departments, appeared for the first time yesterday and is on the BAZOO exchange table. The Agitator is a weekly paper and will appear hereafter regularly once a week. Milton B. Mc-Gee is editor-in-chief and general manager. George Shultz is associate editor. The Agitator is independent in politics and out spoken in all things.
The BAZOO welcomes it to Sedalia and wishes it and its worthy and gentlemanly manager much success.The unfair attempt to hold Mayor Stevens responsible for everything that happens in Sedalia is so outrageously unfair and partisan that it has fallen flat and harmless. The people are the judges and they know that Captain Stevens has made a good mayor and that he has done everything possible to guard the welfare and advance the interests of Sedalia, devoting more attention and far more time to the duties of his office than could be reasonably expected of him for the small salary the office pays.
Crime is committed and always will be committed in every community on earth and in a live, progressive, well advised city, of the proportions of Sedalia, there will be lawless characters. Mayor Stevens has done as much as any mayor Sedalia ever had to suppress and punish crime and more to advance the material interests of the city. The people know this and can not be deceived.If the perpetrator of the infamous Taylor outrage be caught, the BAZOO can not but counsel moderation and an adherence to law. A rapist richly deserves death, more fully than any other criminal, and the laws of Mis-sour justly authorize the punishment, of those convicted of rape, by death.
The trouble in this case, as in thousands of other, and similar cases, is that of identification of the criminal. The objection to the people taking the law in their own hands and administering it to the supposed criminal is that the people act hastily and they are liable to administer that punishment which is the merited desert of one man to another and an innocent man. They never wait to prove a man guilty beyond a reasonable doubt. Many an innocent man has suffered death at the hands of a mob, for another man's crime. In case of death by a mob, generally, one or two persons, only, pronounce the victim guilty, whereas the law, which is experience, approved by usage and hallowed by wisdom, says twelve men should pronounce a man guilty before he is condemned to die. When a woman is ravished, alone, in open daylight, by an undisguised man, as is often the case, there can then be no mistake of identification but when an assault is made on a dark night, by a man covered with a mask, is there not great room for doubt in identification? Should it not be submitted to a calm test in court? At least, nothing hasty should be done.
Since all the circumstances of the recent unprecedented outrage have become known to the people and by them fully understood, who is there to say, after mature deliberation, that the law should not take its course and who is there that does not now feel in his heart that it would be just and best to yield to the majesty of the law?MAJOR WADDELL AND THE RE-PUBLIC.Major John Waddell, as is well known to the BAZOO's readers, is manager of the Missouri Central Lumber Company, of this city, and one Sedalia's best citizens and most upright gentlemen, in everything that constitutes a good citizen and a gentleman. Major Waddell has lately been holding some correspondence with the St. Louis Republic and the following concerning it appeared in the editorial department of the Republic, yesterday:"As the Republic has protested against the horrible atrocity of mobs which burn criminals at the stake it is subjected to attack from some who think they would enjoy the sight of a human being frying alive.

For instance we have received the following dated Sedalia, Mo., February 25, 1892, written on the letter head of the Missouri Central Lumber Company, and signed 'John Waddell.'"Don't write or permit the writing for your paper of any more such damned idiocy as the enclosed from your paper of February 24. We do not justify the application of the torch by the woman interested, but we excuse her because of circumstances and bad advisers. All the rest we indorse and are prepared to duplicate. We know how it is ourselves; and the Lord preserve you and yours from such knowledge.The Republic does not know a John Waddell in Sedalia: and therefore it cannot say that such a person wrote this letter. But we have filed the original for reference, and if it was written by a John Waddell of Sedalia and if hereafter anyone is burned at the stake in Sedalia, in the State of Missouri, then, in that case, John Waddell would run the risk of being hanged by the neck until he is dead if there is law enough in the State of Missouri to punish crime, and if it is possible for a newspaper's demands for its enforcement to have it enforced.
So if there is a John Waddell in Sedalia, and if he wrote this letter, let him look to himself in case the threats he makes are carried out."The BAZOO hastens to assure the Republic that there is such a gentleman in Sedalia as John Waddell, and that he is one of the most esteemed of Sedalia's many substantial citizens.
Major Waddell is a sensible man, and the Republic, before condemning him, should make allowance for the first hot flush of righteous indignation that makes every brave man's blood boil when he hears of a woman being ravished. The BAZOO does not believe that Major Waddell will hold to these sentiments, after a due time for a cool and calm deliberation. He is a southerner, and a brave ex-confederate soldier and it may take some time for his naturally hot and chivalrous blood to cool to a state of calm reasoning under such an extreme aggravation, but he will be right in due time.
The Republic views this matter under the old rules of logic, at a distance of two hundred miles.
Major Waddell, like thousands of other honest Sedalians, view it on the spot, under the stinging smart of outraged justice.There will be no one burnt in Sedalia. If the culprit is caught, he might, possibly, be shot or hanged to death, if caught before the outraged feelings of the people subside to reason, and if he were first identified beyond a shadow of a doubt of possibility of error, many there would be in this community who would not say it was wrong. But no one will be burnt.
Major Waddell will not be hanged for assisting in burning a man for any other form of murder. He is not that kind of a man. The Republic need not keep that letter on fire. It will not need it, as an assistant prosecutor of Pettis county crimes.
